

For Immediate Release

July 19, 2010

3 Saskatchewan athletes have been named to teams that will represent Canada at international competitions this year. Kia Byers of Wascana Racing Canoe Club (Regina) was named to the national team that will compete at the senior world championships in Poland from August 18 to 22nd. Byers was also on the team for the Pan Am Championships in Mexico City in October.

Christine Selinger and Chris Pearson were also selected to the world championship team for the Paracanoe events.

Jarret Kenke of Saskatoon and Simon Fense of Regina were both named to the junior men's kayak team that will compete at the Pan Am Championships.

The team selections were based on the results of these athletes at the national team trials held in May and this past weekend. Several other Saskatchewan athletes competed at the trials, posting good results.
